PROCEEDINGS IN THE HOUSE.

In the House League Island occupied the entire day, and, as yesterday, provoked as great an amount of really able and spirited debate as any question yet before the House. Judge Kelley's closing speech was particularly forcible and clear, and to his personal efforts outside and his element persuasions inside Congress, his State solely is indebted for its unanticipated triumph in finally carry ing the League Island scheme. The catechising of Raymond by Le Blond provoked a general outburst of merri-

I have to say that under the regulations lately adopted by this seffice, gains derived from and losses incurred by the purchase had mice of stocks are regarded as pains and losses in business, and without reference to the time during which the stocks are held. Interest and dividends derived from stocks are pegarded as income derived from fixed investments without reference to the time during which such stocks at held. But when gains derived from the sales of stocks involve. Interest received or accrued, such reals may be regarded as darlived from burness alone. Salaries, except where specially previded for by statute, are regarded as mecome from business. The value of property used in business, less the amount of insurance, may be oddected, when lost, from the gains and its value may be deducted, when hear, it is a print of the business.

The fact that a person returns a gain or claims a less upon be purchase and sale of stocks does not necessarily imply that as does a business which requires or has required the license of a broker. The liability to be taxed for such license should be determined upon its own merits and is an independent exactly.

LEAGUE ISLAND AS AN IRON-CLAD STATION.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill to authorize the Secretary of the Nary to accept League Island, in the Delaware River, for naval purposes.

Mr. MEYERS (Pa.) addressed the House, in an hour's speech, in advacacy of the bill, claiming for League Island all the advantages to be desired for an iron-clad station, and disparaging those of New-London.

Mr. Thayer (Pa.) followed on the same side.

Mr. Spaldding (Ohio) stated that he had been a member of the Committee on Naval Affairs of the last Congress, and had had occasion to view the locality well known as League Island, and after carefully examining that island it occurred to him that there was such a thing as having a present of toe expensive a character to the donce. If the project were carried into exception, it would necessitate an enormous outlay of public honey. He feared that League Island was rather too secure from the approach of a foreign foe—for a portion of the year League Island was, on account of ice, inaccessible from the ocean.

Mr. Kelley interrupted Mr. Spalding to say that the record showed that in 40 years the City of Philadelphia had never been ice-locked. There had not been a day when vessels could not make their way to and from the ocean.

Mr. Spallerna closed by 'declaring himself in favor of the when vessels could not make their way to and from the ocean.

Mr. Spalling closed by declaring himself in favor of the substitute offered by Mr. Brandage vesterday, authorizing a commission of scientific and competent men to examine all the sites offered.

Mr. Randall (Penn. made a speech in favor of the bill. He represented that the site of the present Navy-Yard in Pinisdelphia would bring to the Government $1,000,000 or $1,000,000. He had been authorized this morning by a competent man to state that he would cheerfally take a contract to place League Island in a thorough condition for the object proposed in consideration for the land now covered by the Philadelphia Navy-Yard, and he thought he would make money by the operation.

Mr. Raymond said it was perfectly clear that it was for the interest of Congress and of the country to have the less site for a Navy-Yard that could be found in the United States, and therefore be could not see any valid objection.

best site for a Navy-Yard that could be found in the United States, and therefore be could not see any valid objection to the adoption of the substitute. If League Island were the best site, it was reasonably certain that it would be recommended by the Commission which the substitute contemplated. If it were not the best, then nobody should wish it to be taken. He did not care to go beyond that single consideration. If he looked further he found that one Board of naval officers and of the Committee of naval affairs of the House had examined League Island, and had reported against it.

Mr. Le Blond (Ohio) interrupted Mr. Raymond, to say I was going to vote on the question.

Mr. RAYMOND replied that he did not know which to

Mr. Le Blond-I will say for the information of the Mr. Le Blond—I will say for the information of the gentleman from New-York [Raymond] that on two other occasions he has spoken for propositions and then voted against them. The gentleman made a speech in favor of striking out the third section of the Constitutional Amendment. We were all on this side proud of that speech, and were of opinion that the gentleman was going to vote with us, and that we would defeat the measure, but when the vote came we found the gentleman (Raymond) voting with Mr. Stevens in support of the measure which he had spoken so eloquently against. [Laughter.] On one or two former occasions I believe the gentleman stands on the record of speaking one way and voting the contrary montade slander, and assertions which a lunatic might sparm.

Mr. Elderhole (Wis.) moved to amend the bill by adding a provise, that, if League Island be solected, the Navy-Yard at Philladelphia be solected, the Navy-Yard at Philladelphia States as zoon as the public convenience will admit. The amendment was agreed to.

The amendment officed by Mr. Rick (Mass.) to the substitute offered by Mr. Brandings was agreed to.

The question was then taken on the amendment, and it was rejected—Yeas. 55. Naya, 65—as follows:

In the State Convention to-day numerous petitions were read and referred.

The Committee on Corporations reported an ordinance incorporating the North Carolina Petroleum and Mining Company, which was adopted.

An ordinance restricting the railroads in the State from charging exorbitant rates or giving a monopoly of the carrying tsade to other parties was read the first time.

An ordinance was reported appointing a Committee to carry into effect an ordinance of the Convention to ascertain what portion of the debt was contracted prior to May 2°, 1863, and what portion of it was contracted during the late Rebellion in and of internal improvements, and therefore not strictly a portion of the war debt. Which was referred.

An ordinance relative to amending the judiciary laws, therefore not strictly a portion of the war debt. Which was referred.

An ordinance relative to amending the judiciary laws, giving Justices of the Peace power to try misdemeanors, was read the first time.

The ordinance authorizing the State Treasurer to exchange mutilated State registered bonds was brought up for a second reading. It provides that the holders of old and applicants for new bonds must be residents of this state at the time of the passage of the ordinance.

Mr. Phillips of Orange inquired if the new ordinance applied to all bonds or whether it applied to bonds contracted for before the war or tose issued during the war, paid for in Confederate money or other depreciable currency. If of the latter class he was opposed to giving a $1,000 bond now for one of the class named, but they must be subjected to a depreciation or discount sale. The whole ordinance as now drawn was defective, and he moved its recommittal, which motion was adopted.

A resolution was passed to hold evening sessions after to-day, with a view of effecting an early adjournment of the Convention.

MISSOURY.

THE OLD-SCHOOL PRESENTERIAN ASSEMBLY - THIR-

TEENTH DAY-THE DECLARATION AND TESTIMONY SIGNERS SUSPENDED-ACTION ON THE DOMESTIC MISSION REPORT, ETC.

From Our Special Correspondent. Sr. Lours, June 1, 1866. To-day the great question of the Assembly was decided. It had been arranged that the vote should take place at II a. m. The session last night was mainly occupied by Dr. Brookes in an ingenious argument, in which he tried to show by various precedents that rebellion against the deliverances of the General Assembly was a very common thing in the history of the church. Judging from his remarks, one would have supposed rebellion against the General Assembly was the rule and not the exception. The church was crowded with his admirers, chiefly of the fair sex. This morning Mr. Yantes, one of the disloyal clergy of Missouri, made a rabid speech in favor of the Declaration of Treaty Signers, in which he denied the Declaration of Treaty Signers, in which he denied the power of the General Assembly to impose political texts. He had no wish, he said, to become the tail end of an Abolition concern, and was utterly indifferent as to what action the Assembly took. The Rev. Mr. McAfee, another of the Missouri Rebel preachers, was so loyal during the war that the Provost-Marshal one day sent him a polite request to cease preaching till further orders. This immediate champion of political liberty consented himself with a feeble protest against the outragous conduct of the majority.

that the friends of the original report of the Committee were prepared to abundon their resolutions and accept those offered by Dr. Gurley as a substitute. These resolutions, it will be remembered, condomn the Declaration and Teatimony as a slanderous attack on the charch, and cite the signers thereof to appear before the next General Assembly to show cause why they should not be expelled from the charch, and in the mean time suspending them from the charch, and in the mean time suspending them from the exercise of any of the privileges of the church in connection win the General Assembly, and probabiliting any synoid, presbytery or session from allowing them any voice in their proceedings, and Dr. Thomas, the leader of the Radical side of the house, moved to substitute these resolutions for those reported by the Committee. The advantage of the Gurley substitute is that it embraces all the signers of the Declaration and Testimony in the citation, instead of confining the proposed punishments to the members of the Louistille Presbytery.

After getting rie of all surplus motions and resolutions, by laying them on the table in a batch including Dr. Humphrey's compromise resolutions, the Assembly came to a direct vote on the proposition offered by Dr. Garley. The vote resulted—Yeas, one hundred and nurly-six; Nays, thirty-secun. The Assembly immediately after joined in prayer. The vote thus taken is nearly the same as that on the second day's motion to lay the resolution of investigation on the table. Drs. Van Dyke and Boardman were thus sustained by a single colleague from their Presbyteries, and these bodies will probably next year conclude to allow both Boardman and Van Dyke and Boardman were thus sustained by a single colleague from their Presbyteries, and these bodies will probably next year conclude to allow both Boardman and Van Dyke and Boardman were thus sustained by a first in the series of the votes were natally from Kentucky, Maryland and Missouri, though it should be said to the honor of Missouri that Paintyra, Mo., is ready to lounch another upon the Assembly to-morrow.

It was decided by the Moderator that the effect of the vote on Dr. Gurley's resolutions was to vacate the seat of every member of the Assembly who signed the Declaration and Testimony, but on motion of Dr. Montfort of Cincinnati the vote was ordered to be so construed that the resolutions shall not take effect until the final adjustrament of the Assembly. This enables Brookes and Anderson, and other malcontents, to relain their seats during the remainder of the session.

This afternoon has been spent chiefly in reports of committees. An exciting and somewhat bitter discussion arose upon the recommendation of the Committee on Domestic Missions to change the depot of the Board from Philadelphia to Cincinnati. Finally the subject was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to report to the next General Assembly. The Freedmen's Committee on a spont chiefly in the continuation of the Committee on the recommendation of the Committee on the next General Assembly. The Freedmen's Committee on a Select Committee with instructions to report to the next General Assembly. The Freedmen's Committee on a proposition to transfer the work of the Committee to the the next General Assembly. The Freedmen's Committee report was also taken up, and a debate took place on a proposition to transfer the work of the Committee to the Board of Domestic Missions. Without conting to a decision the Assembly aljourned.

Now the mainly exciting debates are over, the sessions of the Assembly are held to an empty gallery. The people who rushed to hear political discussions don't appear to care a fig for Foreign or Hotne Missions. So goes the world?

The weather is warm again.
